

Assistant/Associate Professor of Education

The Department of Education at College of the Ozarks seeks applicants for the position of Assistant/Associate Professor of Teacher Education, with responsibilities that include teaching, advising, and supervising teacher education candidates. The position requires a state-issued teaching and/or administration certificate; teaching experience; and an earned master's degree or higher (Ph.D. or Ed.D. preferred) in education. The preferred starting date for this position is August 2025.

The ideal candidate will have a broad background in education, the ability to effectively teach a variety of courses, a strong commitment to mentoring students, and a demonstrated ability to work effectively with colleagues. Potential teaching assignments could focus on secondary and middle school pedagogy, literacy, assessment, curriculum development, and community engagement. In addition to teaching and advising responsibilities, the successful candidate will be expected to supervise student teachers, oversee clinical experiences, and engage with student organizations.

The successful candidate must embrace the College's Christ-centered mission and demonstrate excellence in teaching undergraduate students, a commitment to serving as a mentor and positive role model, and interest in the integration of Christian faith and learning. This position may lead to a multi-year letter of appointment.

College of the Ozarks is a small (1,450 students), liberal arts, work-study college with a commitment to evangelical Christian faith and service located in southwest Missouri near Branson (www.cofo.edu).
